Virtual Social Science Research Institute

The Virtual Social Science Research Institute website was created to promote social science research conducted by OLC students, faculty, or staff by giving researchers the opportunity to share their research with others, and to inform all interested parties about what topics have been studied or are currently researched.

Please contact Susanne Auer (sauer@olc.edu) if you have any questions about the Virtual Social Science Institute or about any of the projects presented here, or if you are an OLC student, faculty, or staff member and would like to have your research (in full or as brief description) available on the Virtual Social Science Research Institute.

The creation of this site was supported by the American Indian Higher Education Consortium (AIHEC) through their TCU Behavioral Health Research Network initiative.
